

The Atlant animal Antelio

The Antelio was one of the animals of Atlantis. He looked like an antelope with a lion's head. He had wings but he was in trouble with swimming because the legs were too long. His fur was black with brown stripes. He was a friendly animal but the other animals were scared because he had big horns on the head. The favourite food of the Antelio was fish from the sea. Antelios could grow to a length of two meters. He weighed more than a hundred kilograms. His strong hoofs could hurt other animals. His teeth were as strong as the sea around Atlantis.