

The Girash

The Girash was one of the animals of Atlantis. It looked like a big fish with a head from a giraffe. The animal had a neck which was bigger than its body. It was as big as a dolphin. The Girash was heavier than a turtle. It lived in the sea and people from Atlantis liked it. Lots of people kept them in a tank. It is a very friendly animal but other animals were scared because of its fin on its back. The Girash's favourite food were shells from the sea and other sea plants. It could swim very fast. The animal grew up to two meters and some of them were bigger. The animal got ten years old. The Girash was very beautiful because it was very colourful. It was blue, green, purple, pink, yellow, orange, red and brown.
